Art Unit: 3753

The information disclosure statement filed 5 April 2004 fails to comply with 37 CFR 1.98(a)(2), which requires a legible copy of each foreign patent; each publication or that portion which caused it to be listed; and all other information or that portion which caused it to be listed. Only the US references have been considered.

Claims 9-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claim 9, the phrase "preferably" renders the claim indefinite because it is unclear whether the limitations following the phrase are part of the claimed invention. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 9-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Aitchison.

Aitchison shows a first valve C biased open by spring e, but will close when sufficient steam pressure is present. At a much higher pressure, annular second valve B will lift against spring b'. The first valve moves through a central passageway in the second valve.

Claims 9-11, 13, and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sliger. Sliger shows a biased open first valve (the bias means is the weight of the ball) seating in an annular seat in a central passage of second valve 22. The inlet 34 is much smaller than the outlet 16. The second valve has a compression spring bias.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 12 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sliger in view of Tsai. Tsai shows a ball valve seating in another valve, similar to Sliger, but with a spring for the ball. It would have been obvious in view of Tsai to provide a small spring for the Sliger ball in order to permit the valve to work in any orientation with respect to gravity.

Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Aitchison or Sliger. The use of filters in fluid systems is well known. It would have been obvious to place a filter on the inlet (or outlet) of Aitchison or Sliger to keep the fluid and the valve clean, a well known desirable situation in any fluid system.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Vedder shows a similar device to Sliger.
